YOUNGSTERS from New Farm Loch Primary had a splashing time when they were the first to use new watersports facilities.

These are based at the Allseasons leisure development at Galston.

Mike Howes, an outdoor pursuits officer at East Ayrshire Council, brought eight pupils from the school to use the new facilities.

Also on hand were two members of school staff. Plans are now in place for clubs to use the facilities throughout the next watersports season, with the current one drawing to a close.
